

Velvet Commercial Cleaning took on the cleaning of our offices in Edinburgh at the start of the year. From the moment they took over the difference to the cleanliness of our offices was notable. Most of our staff have remarked at how clean the offices are and it is nice to come into a fresh smell of polish, clean kitchen equipment and sparkling cloakrooms. I have found the whole team at Velvet to be accommodating, helpful, professional and approachable so the lines of communication are open at all times making things easy for both sides. I have no hesitation in recommending this firm to anyone looking for a cleaning company – exceptional standards!
